THE TROOPS ON HAND

120 Men Under Arms at Jackson Today.

No Event Marked Their Arrival at Seat of Federal War.

OPINIONS SEEM TO DIFFER

Jackson, Ky., May 25—A battalion of troops numbering 120 men arrived in Jackson at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon to preserve order in the town and about the court house during the legal investigation of the assassination of James B. Marcan, the last victim of the Hargis-Cockrell feud. The battalion is made up of one infantry company from Shelbyville, and two batteries of artillery from Louisville and Lexington arrived on a special train from Lexington and at once pitched camp on a wide common owned by Alexander Hargis, near the center of town.

The arrival of the troops was unmarked by any particular incident. Traveling on the special train with the soldiers were County Judge James Hargis and his brother, State Senator Alexander Hargis, the two most prominent members of the Hargis family.

Another passenger was J. G. Bach, who is regarded as the most important witness, summoned to testify before the grand jury as to the assassination of Marcan. Judge Bach has returned from Los Angeles, Cal., to give evidence. During the course of an interview he expressed the belief that no disorders would occur as long as the troops remained. Judge Bach said he did not fear a personal attack and declared that he would remain at his home without taking any special measure for self-protection.

Public opinion is divided as to the probability of indictment or conviction of Marcan's assassin as a work of the special grand jury which will be impaneled tomorrow with Judge Redwine sitting on the bench. Curtis Jett, who is under arrest at Winchester, charged with the crime, will not ask for a change of venue if indicted and returned to Jackson. Prosecuting Attorney Byrd stated that it is possible that such a motion might be made by those most interested in the prosecution. Doubt is expressed by many as to the probability of witnesses mustering up courage to tell the grand jury all they know. The common belief is that fear of assassination after the troops are withdrawn may seal the lips of those who may know about the killing of Marcan. No time has been set for the withdrawal of troops.

SWEDISH CONSUL DISMISSED.

Copenhagen, May 25—At the demand of Gen. Bobrikoff, the governor general of Finland, M. Savon, the Swedish consul at Nystad, Finland, has been dismissed for participation in the anti-Russian agitation.

The papers were drawn here but not filed in this court. The amount of assets and liabilities is unknown.

Mrs. E. E. and L. O. Reid of Clinton spent Sunday in the city.

A BOILER KILLS SIX

Fatal Explosion in a Louisiana Town Yesterday.

The French Automobile Races Result in Several Fatal Accidents.

FAMOUS FRENCH WRITER DEAD

KILLED BY BOILER EXPLOSION.

Plaquemine, La., May 25—One of the boilers of Wilson & Cochran's saw-mill at Wilcox, near Maringo station, exploded, killing six persons.

The killed are: William Pearson, engineer, aged 60, who came to Iberville parish from Tennessee six years ago; James Victor, Phillip Archer, William Hill, Richard Hill, Jesse Thomas.

Nine others are seriously injured and it is thought that two of them will die. Among the injured are Glozier, the sawyer, and J. J. Dolinger, boiler maker, of Plaquemine. No cause is given for the explosion.

ENGINE TURNED SOMERSAULT.

Lula, Miss., May 25—A passenger train on the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, loaded with passengers was completely wrecked yesterday. Not a passenger was hurt yet the engine and cars rolled over into a ditch. The train was dashing into Lula at a lively rate. The cause of the wreck is a mystery.

Baggage-master H. B. Barger received the most painful injury, the small bone in his right foot being fractured. Engineer A. E. Brown stuck to his post as the engine left the track and was in the cab when it turned bottom side up, but was not injured.

A negro fireman received a few bruises, and the passengers were considerably jostled.

AUTOMOBILE RACE

DISASTROUS.

Paris, May 25—In view of the number of accidents, some fatal in the first stage of the Paris-Madrid automobile race from Versailles to Bordeaux, Premier Combes has forbidden the continuance of the contest, on French territory. The second stage of the race, which was to have been continued on Tuesday, included a run over French territory from Bordeaux to the Spanish frontier. Premier Combes' action will probably lead to the races being abandoned.

The first stage of the race from Versailles to Bordeaux, 334 miles, finished at noon when Louis Renault dashed at a furious pace into Bordeaux, having made a record run of eight hours and twenty-seven minutes. It is estimated from the times made that these automobiles covered 62 miles an hour on the road outside the cities. At least two cars were wrecked and Marcel Renault, the winner of the Paris-Vienna race last year, Lorraine Barrows, a very well known automobilist, and Renault's chauffeur were seriously, and it is believed, fatally injured, while Barrows' chauffeur was killed.

MAX O'RELL DEAD.

Paris, May 25—Paul Blomet (Max O'Rell) is dead. He had been ailing for several months and never recovered entirely from the effects of an operation performed some time ago in New York.

The deceased was a brother of Mr. D. A. Meacham, of The Sun, who was called to Crofton Saturday by the news that his brother was very ill.

Mr. Rube Beatty went to Kuttawa to lay at noon on business.

165,000 Men Idle in New York City at Present.

Six Killed Today By Tornado in Nebraska—Chairmen Young Enjoined.

EFFORT MADE TO SQUELCH HIM

DON'T HAVE TO WORK.

New York, May 25—There are 165,000 idle men in New York city, notwithstanding the fact that every line of business is booming in the city. These men but for strikes, lockouts and discussions among rival labor unions, would be earning a total of $660,000 a day or $3,960,000 a week. Industries and firms representing total capitalization of $550,000,000 are at standstill with consequent loss of profits.

HAVE REACHED

WALBERT HELD

ONLY ONE WITNESS IN THE

CASE HEARD TODAY.

The malicious shooting case against

Ed Walbert was taken up this afternoon in police court, after being continued for several weeks, and only one witness was heard, Mr. J. J. Conway, the man who was shot. He testified that at the time of the shooting he was on the corner talking to Walbert's wife when Walbert came up and with a remark something like "Now I've got you" began shooting, firing three times, one shot taking effect. In the scuffle that ensued Conway got possession of the pistol and handed it over his shoulder to someone, he didn't know who it was, but thought it was Walbert's wife.

No other evidence was heard and Walbert did not testify or offer any defense. He was held to answer in the sum of $300, and Mayor Yelzer and Street Inspector Eaker went on his bond.

Miss Frances E. Farley will return to her home in Whittemore, Ia., tomorrow after an extended visit to Capt. Ed Farley and family.

Effort to be Made to Show Sentiment on Question.

Ministers' Association, Baseball League, Labor Unions and Merchants to Be Represented.

MINISTERS MAY NOT DESIST

An important meeting is to be held Friday evening in Paducah at which will be present members of the Ministerial Association, members of the K. I. T. Baseball League, representatives of the Merchants' association and of the various labor unions of Paducah, for the purpose of showing as far as possible what the sentiment of the people represented is regarding Sunday baseball games.

The labor unions, it is understood, will have a big petition signed asking that no effort be made to stop Sunday baseball and showing that it is the only day on which the thousands of laboring people may enjoy the sport.

It is believed that the influence brought to bear will be strong, but what effect it will have is in doubt. The committee appointed at the ministers' meeting Friday night has done nothing as yet. One of the ministers said today, in response to an inquiry from a reporter, that they did not care what the labor people or the merchants thought about it, it would not have any effect on them and their movement, and that they would try to have the statutes enforced and stop Sunday baseball.

It is understood, however, that if the ministers will not agree to abandon the idea of breaking up the game, the baseball men have a plan whereby Sunday ball may be played and no law violated. What this is, is not given out, but one rumor is that the baseball men will all agree to play for nothing, and the games will be given as an entertainment at the park, an admission to which will be charged, just as a band concert or a picnic may be given.

There is a great deal of interest developing in the baseball question, and yesterday no effort was made to arrest any one.

Secretary Hanna of the Y. M. C. A. states that our informant Saturday relative to his being on a committee appointed to investigate the baseball playing on Sunday was an error, as he, Secretary Hanna, was not appointed on a committee, and would not have served if he had been appointed.

THE TEMPERATURE.

Yesterday was quite warm, the maximum being 92 degrees, against 93 of Saturday. Today the temperature will probably not go so high.

Archie Becker, of Evansville, will be here tomorrow to play third base for Paducah, Massaran having been released.

The case against Mann Dobson, who was arrested at Brookport on a charge of striking Eph Carter, colored, was continued two weeks. Carter has been unconscious at the city hospital, but is now better. CIRCUIT COURT.

Mr. Will C. Kidd, deputy circuit court clerk, returned last night from Dawson, where he had gone for his health.

A judgment for the defendant was filed in the suit of Robert Boyd against George Grubbs. The court in rendering the judgment stated that there was much incompetent testimony on both sides and that in rendering the decision he had overlooked all this and taken just what evidence seemed to be competent. The suit was brought to recover the value of a lot supposed to have been owned by the plaintiff, but the court did not think he ever had any claim on it.

The mandate from the court of appeals reversing the case of Lon Enqua has been received here and filed for record. Enqua was given a life sentence for complicity in the shooting of George Gray on North Eighth street. Spot Polk, who did the shooting, also received a life sentence, but Enqua gets a new trial.

Ada Etter was this morning granted a divorce from Steve Etter.

A judgment for $56 was filed for the plaintiff in the case of E. O. Terrell against Jordan Walker.

Paducah won a hard fought battle from Jackson yesterday afternoon at Wallace park, making the third game she has taken out of four. Paducah bunched her hits and saved the day. Hedges pulled himself out of several holes and is to be highly commended for his excellent work. Lambert, the catcher, had one passed ball which let in two runs.

Paducah started her lead with a three base hit by "Captain" Sexton which scored Murray who had gotten to first base on a fielder's choice. This is the only score made that inning. Paducah scored again in the fourth by Lambert's two base hit bringing in Coppock who had also made a double hit. Paducah got goose eggs the next two innings but in the seventh scored again by Coppock being struck by a ball, forcing in Murray from third base. In the eighth inning she scored again on Simcox's one base hit which brought in three men. No scores were made in the last innings.

Jackson made no scores until the seventh inning when she ran in four. Gaston made a base hit while Ledman got to first on error of Le Compte who muffed a hot liner. Butler got a base hit bringing in Gaston and Cole, Ledman and Butler scoring on Lambert's error in not going after the ball which had passed him. The next inning two scores were made and these were the last marked down for Jackson.

The last of the sixth inning Sexton was injured by runner Malone who tangled with Sexton in trying to make second base, having been caught between the bases, and knocked the latter down, dislocating his right knee cap. Murray went to second and Lloyd to left field. Sexton was pretty seriously hurt but will be in the game again before long. The ball was thrown by the third baseman to Sexton, Le Compte having assisted also in handling the ball, and Sexton caught the runner off by a foot. He held on to the ball, although badly hurt, and holding it up exhibited it and then throw it down. Umpire Winfrey called the men out. Simcox and Malone, who was running for Gaston to first tangled with Simcox and hurt the latter's ankle but not seriously.

A FINISH FIGHT ON

Capital Will Not Submit to Dictates of Walking Delegates.

So Say Representatives of Many Manufacturing States in Session at New York.

LEGAL COUNSEL EMPLOYED

New York, May 25—According to the views expressed by the representatives from twenty of the leading manufacturing states in the union, who met in executive session in the rooms of the National Association of Manufacturers, capital is girding up its loins all over this country for a death struggle with labor.

The meeting was that of the executive committee of the association, and beyond announcing the selection of the committee which was to work on this line this summer and report at the next stated meeting here in September, no formal statement of what was done was made, but it is known that subcommittees representing widely diversified industries were appointed to go to work systematically all over this country to unionize employers; that special steps are to be taken to engage eminent legal counsel in the several states to protect the manufacturers against boycotts, injunctions and the activity of walking delegates, while at the same time none but cordial good will was expressed for the laboring men themselves.

The president of the association was authorized to select additional legal counsel, and the general officers were instructed to report a plan of legal defense against picketing, boycotting and the obtaining of injunctions, such as several labor organizations in the west have obtained recently to the embarrassment of their employers.

The special committee on reorganization of the National Association of Manufacturers, at the New Orleans convention, a few days ago, appointed a sub-committee of seven, to which the president and the general secretary were added, as a permanent committee on organization of employers throughout the union. At the meeting yesterday they passed this resolution:

"Resolved, That the secretary of this association be empowered to communicate with the employers in any trade which shall, by the request of five members of this association engaged in any one line of trade, and that such special trade be organized into an association, and that the secretary is herewith empowered to render reasonable assistance in the work of organizing employers of such special trade."

Another result of the New Orleans convention, which was furthered yesterday, was the systematization of the work of the special committee which is to devise and put into effect practical plans for bringing about the cooperation of the many state employees' associations.

SLANDER SUIT

GRAVES COUNTY FARMERS FALL OUT OVER ALLEGED REMARKS.

Mayfield, May 25—J. W. Durbin has filed suit in circuit court here against J. W. Robb for slander. The plaintiff is a tenant on the defendant's farm, and claims that the latter last April accused him of stealing corn from his, the defendant's, crib.

ANTIDIPHThERIA LOZENGE.

Paris, May 25—The antidiphtheria serum discovered by Prof. Roux of the Pasteur Institute is now being made up in the form of a lozenge for use during the convalescence. The professor had observed that bacilli found in the months of patients several weeks after recovery was liable to convey the disease to others. The lozenges overcome this and also render preventive inoculation unnecessary.

ENGINE INSPECTOR KILLED.

Evansville, Ind., May 25—Robert H. McMahon, engine inspector for the Louisville and Nashville railroad at Howell, this county, was found dead on the track, his head being severed from the body. He leaves a widow.

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," Our Next Serial Story

Never since Anthony Hope's "Prisoner of Zenda" revolutionized romantic literature has a story appeared so replete in blended love and episode, so thrilling and at the same time so tender in its heart passages as Graustark.—NEW YORK WORLD.

A woman is a woman, although she is a princess, is the key note. There are very pretty love scenes, but the love is honest and true and inspires sympathy.—HOUSTON (Tex.) DAILY POST.

Don't Miss Graustark if You Want to Read a Charming Story of Love and Adventure

GRAUSTARK

We have a good one for our readers now—GRAUSTARK, THE STORY OF A LOVE BEHIND A THRONE, BY GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON.

¶ Marie Bankhead Owen, reviewing the story in the Bookworm, says: A practical bookman has just said, "no book since Trilby has taken so great a hold on the popular fancy as Graustark."

¶ Being a story of love behind a throne, it teems with scenes of adventure and impassioned romance.

¶ The author, George Barr McCutcheon, himself an American, has given the reader a noble example of an ideal American as hero.

¶ The plot is thrilling and well sustained, the story being told in vivid, terse English.

¶ The motive of the story is the love of a man and a woman, and what that love emboldens them to venture, to dare, to renounce, to endure!

¶ It is beyond the province of the reviewer to reduce the plot of a masterpiece of fiction to a compressed summary of the story. A zealous story reader delights in the discovery of what happened next as well as to revel in the style and the literary atmosphere.

¶ I would as soon be given a glass of skimmed milk or a squeezed lemon as a book of fiction accompanied with a synopsis of its contents. Graustark I leave therefore to the pleasure of the prospective reader.

This story begins today and we know our readers will find it one of the best stories of its kind they have ever read. It is intensely interesting, and exciting to a great degree. If you have never read any of these continued stories try "Graustark." You will read them all hereafter. It is our intention to give none but the best stories, and we spare no expense to do so. That our readers appreciate our efforts we have every assurance we could desire and we only hope we will be able to continue publishing stories as good as the ones of the past.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S HOME

EAST TENNESSEE FARMERS WOULD RESERVE IT TO HISTORY.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 25—At a convention of East Tennessee farmers held in this city a movement developed for the purchase of the home at Greenville, Tenn., of President Andrew Jackson. An effort will also be made to purchase all the personal effects of the former president of the United States and preserve to history his home and its surroundings. One delegate was elected from every county in East Tennessee and an active canvass will be begun to put the plan into effect.

FIFTY-CENT DOLLAR.

MEXICO WILL SOON HAVE A STABLE CURRENCY AT THIS RATIO.

El Paso, Tex., May 25—From official sources it is learned that Mexico soon will have a stable dollar fixed at a non-fluctuating value of 50 cents. It is said that Mexico's financiers will never permit silver to be secondary in the republic. They will allow it to be the coin of the realm, however, only at a fixed ratio. Within six months Enrique O. Cress, who, in conjunction with Secretary of Finance Limantour, controls the finances of Mexico, is expected to bring this about.

Of all the silver produced in Mexico 98 per cent is now in Asia, and the total amount of silver now in the republic will not exceed $100,000,000. Silver is being hoarded in Mexico today as was gold in the days of the gold standard. As a result of assurance of a stable currency for Mexico, more foreign capital is being invested there, and more will be placed there within the next few months.

STATE HEALTH BOARD

Adopts a Report Relative to Coach Sanitation.

Will Send a Copy to Various Railroad Managements at Once.

BOARD OFFICERS ELECTED

The state board of health at a meeting at Louisville decided to forward to the transportation managers of the different railroad companies the report of the committee which has been investigating the sanitary conditions of railroad cars. This report was adopted without incident by the doctors. It recommended more thorough cleansing of cars; modifications in the way cars are built; use of different car furniture than now is in use, including the substitution of cane seats and backs, instead of the customary plush, which the report declared carried disease germs; the use of formaldehyde gas as a disinfectant.

Manager Pike, of the Pullman company, appeared before the medical men and said that his corporation would accept the suggestions of the state board of health wherever possible. He intimated, however, that the furniture and furnishings of the Pullman cars were hygienic.

Dr. J. M. Matthews, of Louisville, was re-elected president, and Dr. J. N. McCormack was also elected sanitary inspector. Dr. Eisenman was elected veterinarian.

A committee was appointed to recommend more rigid requirements for students of medical colleges before they could practice medicine.

KING EDWARD III.

BRITISH RULER SUBJECT TO FAINTING SPELLS.

London, May 25—There are rather serious rumors current in regard to the health of King Edward. These stories have been in circulation for several days past. They are to the effect that he had a sudden attack of pain at the opera just after returning from France. A few days later, while he was in Scotland, his majesty experienced similar attacks, which resulted on two occasions, it is said, in fainting spells. The king is under careful treatment and observation, but it is thought that an operation may be necessary within a short time. In the meanwhile he is able to go about almost as usual.

SPRING AILMENTS.

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is that during winter there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

TRIALS TOMORROW.

CELESTIALS MAY HAVE PAPERS TO PRODUCE.

The trial of the four Chinese laundrymen who, it is said, cannot produce certificates of admittance to this country, will be held before Commissioner Gardner tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the prosecution will be conducted by either District Attorney Hill or his assistant of Louisville.

The Chinamen have been here for several years and two claim they had certificates which had been misplaced but which they can now produce. If they produce the papers they will be dismissed. Judge Evans has the final decision as to whether or not they be returned.

FOR THOSE WHO

LIVE ON FARMS.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s.

RHEUMATISM

An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer. Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciatic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism, but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the blood settle upon the valves of the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications.

Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and, as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomfort and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any Potash or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young.

Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

A FINISH FIGHT ON

Capital Will Not Submit to Dictates of Walking Delegates.

So Say Representatives of Many Manufacturing States in Session at New York.

LEGAL COUNSEL EMPLOYED

New York, May 25—According to the views expressed by the representatives from twenty of the leading manufacturing states in the union, who met in executive session in the rooms of the National Association of Manufacturers, capital is girding up its loins all over this country for a death struggle with labor.

The meeting was that of the executive committee of the association, and beyond announcing the selection of the committee which was to work on this line this summer and report at the next stated meeting here in September, no formal statement of what was done was made, but it is known that subcommittees representing widely diversified industries were appointed to go to work systematically all over this country to unionize employers; that special steps are to be taken to engage eminent legal counsel in the several states to protect the manufacturers against boycotts, injunctions and the activity of walking delegates, while at the same time none but cordial good will was expressed for the laboring men themselves.

The president of the association was authorized to select additional legal counsel, and the general officers were instructed to report a plan of legal defense against picketing, boycotting and the obtaining of injunctions, such as several labor organizations in the west have obtained recently to the embarrassment of their employers.

The special committee on reorganization of the National Association of Manufacturers, at the New Orleans convention, a few days ago, appointed a sub-committee of seven, to which the president and the general secretary were added, as a permanent committee on organization of employers throughout the union. At the meeting yesterday they passed this resolution:

"Resolved, That the secretary of this association be empowered to communicate with the employers in any trade which shall, by the request of five members of this association engaged in any one line of trade, and that such special trade be organized into an association, and that the secretary be herewith empowered to render reasonable assistance in the work of organizing employers of such special trade."

Another result of the New Orleans convention, which was furthered yesterday, was the systematization of the work of the special committee which is to devise and put into effect practical plans for bringing about the cooperation of the many state employees' associations.

GRAVES COUNTY FARMERS FALL OUT OVER ALLEGED REMARKS.

Mayfield, May 25—J. W. Durbine has filed suit in circuit court here against J. W. Robb for slander. The plaintiff is a tenant on the defendant's farm, and claims that the latter last April accused him of stealing corn from his, the defendant's, crib.

ANTIDIPHTHERIA LOZENGE.

Paris, May 25—The antidiphtheria serum discovered by Prof. Roux of the Pasteur institute is now being made up in the form of a lozenge for use during the convalescence. The professor had observed that bacilli found in the months of patients several weeks after recovery was liable to convey the disease to others. The lozenges overcome this and also render preventive inoculation unnecessary.

ENGINE INSPECTOR KILLED.

Evansville, Ind., May 25—Robert H. McMahon, engine inspector for the Louisville and Nashville railroad at Howell, this county, was found dead on the track, his head being severed from the body. He leaves a widow.

Not Unnatural Discovery.

GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON
Author of "Graustark," Our Next Serial Story

Never since Anthony Hope's "Prisoner of Zenda" revolutionized romance literature has a story appeared so replete in blended love and episode, so thrilling and at the same time so tender in its heart passages as Graustark.—NEW YORK WORLD.

A woman is a woman, although she is a princess, is the key note. There are very pretty love scenes, but the love is honest and true and inspires sympathy.—HOUSTON (TEX.) DAILY POST.

Don't Miss Graustark if You Want to Read a Charming Story of Love and Adventure

GRAUSTARK

We have a good one for our readers now—GRAUSTARK, THE STORY OF A LOVE BEHIND A THRONE, BY GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON.

¶ Marie Bankhead Owen, reviewing the story in the Bookworm, says: A practical bookman has just said, "no book since Trilby has taken so great a hold on the popular fancy as Graustark."

¶ Being a story of love behind a throne, it teems with scenes of adventure and impassioned romance.

¶ The author, George Barr McCutcheon, himself an American, has given the reader a noble example of an ideal American as hero.

¶ The plot is thrilling and well sustained, the story being told in vivid, terse English.

¶ The motive of the story is the love of a man and a woman, and what that love emboldens them to venture, to dare, to renounce, to endure!

¶ It is beyond the province of the reviewer to reduce the plot of a masterpiece of fiction to a compressed summary of the story. A zealous story reader delights in the discovery of what happened next as well as to revel in the style and the literary atmosphere.

¶ I would as soon be given a glass of skimmed milk or a squeezed lemon as a book of fiction accompanied with a synopsis of its contents. Graustark I leave therefore to the pleasure of the prospective reader.

This story begins today and we know our readers will find it one of the best stories of its kind they have ever read. It is intensely interesting, and exciting to a great degree. If you have never read any of these continued stories try "Graustark." You will read them all hereafter. It is our intention to give none but the best stories, and we spare no expense to do so. That our readers appreciate our efforts we have every assurance we could desire and we only hope we will be able to continue publishing stories as good as the ones of the past.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S HOME

EAST TENNESSEE FARMERS WOULD RESERVE IT TO HISTORY.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 25—At a convention of East Tennessee farmers held in this city a movement developed for the purchase of the home at Greenville, Tenn., of President Andrew Jackson. An effort will also be made to purchase all the personal effects of the former president of the United States and preserve to history his home and its surroundings. One delegate was selected from every county in East Tennessee and an active canvass will be begun to put the plan into effect.

FIFTY-CENT DOLLAR.

MEXICO WILL SOON HAVE A STABLE CURRENCY AT THIS RATIO.

El Paso, Tex., May 25—From official sources it is learned that Mexico soon will have a stable dollar fixed at a non-fluctuating value of 50 cents. It is said that Mexico's financiers will never permit silver to be secondary in the republic. They will allow it to be the coin of the realm, however, only at a fixed ratio. Within six months Enrique C. Creel, who, in conjunction with Secretary of Finance Limantour, controls the finances of Mexico, is expected to bring this about.

Of all the silver produced in Mexico 98 per cent is now in Asia, and the total amount of silver now in the republic will not exceed $100,000,000. Silver is being hoarded in Mexico today as was gold in the days of the gold standard. As a result of assurance of a stable currency for Mexico, more foreign capital is being invested there, and more will be placed there within the next few months.

STATE HEALTH BOARD

Adopts a Report Relative to Coach Sanitation.

Will Send a Copy to Various Railroad Managements at Once.

BOARD OFFICERS ELECTED

The state board of health at a meeting at Louisville decided to forward to the transportation managers of the different railroad companies the report of the committee which has been investigating the sanitary conditions of railroad cars. This report was adopted without incident by the doctors. It recommended more thorough cleansing of cars; modifications in the way cars are built; use of different car furniture than now is in use, including the substitution of cane seats and backs, instead of the customary plush, which the report declared carried disease germs; the use of formaldehyde gas as a disinfectant.

Manager Pike, of the Pullman company, appeared before the medical men and said that his corporation would accept the suggestions of the state board of health wherever possible. He intimated, however, that the furniture and furnishings of the Pullman cars were hygienic.

Dr. J. M. Matthews, of Louisville, was re-elected president, and Dr. J. N. McCormack was also elected sanitary inspector. Dr. Eisenman was elected veterinarian.

A committee was appointed to recommend more rigid requirements for students of medical colleges before they could practice medicine.

KING EDWARD III.

BRITISH RULER SUBJECT TO FAINTING SPELLS.

London, May 25—There are rather serious rumors current in regard to the health of King Edward. These stories have been in circulation for several days past. They are to the effect that he had a sudden attack of pain at the opera just after returning from France. A few days later, while he was in Scotland, his majesty experienced similar attacks, which resulted on two occasions, it is said, in fainting spells. The king is under careful treatment and observation, but it is thought that an operation may be necessary within a short time. In the meanwhile he is able to go about almost as usual.

SPRING AILMENTS.

There is an aching and tired feeling; the liver, bowels and kidneys become sluggish and inactive, the digestion impaired, with little or no appetite, no ambition for anything, and a feeling that the whole body and mind needs toning up. The trouble is that during winter there has been an accumulation of waste matter in the system. Herbine will remove it, secure to the secretions a right exit, and by its tonic effect fully restore the wasted tissues and give strength in place of weakness. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

TRIALS TOMORROW.

CELESTIALS MAY HAVE PAPERS TO PRODUCE.

The trial of the four Chinese laundrymen who, it is said, cannot produce certificates of admittance to this country, will be held before Commissioner Gardner tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the prosecution will be conducted by either District Attorney Hill or his assistant of Louisville.

The Chinamen have been here for several years and two claim they had certificates which had been misplaced but which they can now produce. If they produce the papers they will be dismissed. Judge Evans has the final decision as to whether or not they be returned.

FOR THOSE WHO

LIVE ON FARMS.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.'s.

RHEUMATISM

An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer. Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciotic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism, but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the blood settle upon the valves of the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications.

Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and, as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomforts and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any Potash or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young.

Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable aid and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL PROGRESS

THE ROAD HAS MORE BUSINESS THAN IT CAN HANDLE.

According to President Fish the Illinois Central has more business actually in sight than can be handled. The object of the management at present is, therefore, to equip the road so that the greater part of the traffic can be moved and handled at a profit. As the number of locomotives owned by the company is entirely inadequate to the demands, it was found necessary to borrow additional equipment. Locomotives acquired in this manner will be kept all summer. It was also said that some 75 new locomotives would be received on standing orders and distributed along the different sections between now and January 1, 1901. It is not known at the present time how many miles of new double track will be added to the system for the fiscal year 1902. As much of the work is in various stages of construction, however, it is certain that the large number of miles already completed will, to a great extent, relieve the congestion of freight along the company's lines from New Orleans to Chicago.

ROMANCE OF A PICTURE.

CONSIDERED ALMOST VALUELESS, AN EXPERT PAYS $30,000 FOR IT.

(London cable to New York Herald.)

A curious romance of a famous picture has just come to light. For many years a picture entitled "The Holy Family" hung on the walls of the Bristol Yonog Men's Association. The owner lent it for a long time and ultimately proposed that the association pay it for what he termed a reasonable sum—$30. But the association thought it had more important demands for its money and declined to buy it. Lately the owner died and the executors took charge of the picture and sent it to London to be sold. Judge of their surprise when they got $30,000 for it from an expert, who identified it as a famous picture from the brush of Pietro Da Cortona, a great Italian painter of the seventeenth century. The expert considered it cheap at the price.

DAUGHTER IN IGNORANCE

OF HER MOTHER'S DEATH IN THE AUDIENCE AT COMMENCEMENT.

Kokomo, Ind., May 26—At the graduating exercises of New London high school, held at the Quaker church, a large class was turned out. The hand of death was laid on a proud mother as her daughter delivered her oration. The mother, Mrs. Jacob Hanson, sat in the audience, filled with pride and joy at her daughter's, Miss Lucy Hanson, success as she began her address. Suddenly Mrs. Hanson sank to the floor unconscious, and died immediately. The death scene was not noticed by the daughter, and she finished her oration in ignorance of the fact that her mother had died of joy over her triumph on the platform. Mrs. Hanson was 53 years old.

CROWDS TURN OUT

Sunday Was Enjoyed in Many Ways Yesterday.

Excursions Both Into and Out of Paducah—Religious Meetings.

METROPOLIS CROWDS HERE

Ascension day was appropriately observed in Paducah yesterday by the Knights Templar. Gethsemane lodge from Metropolis came up in the forenoon and were guests of Paducah Commandery, K. T. Services were held at the First Christian church, and the Sir Knights were entertained at dinner at the Palmer afterwards, the following ladies being among the guests: Ladies from Metropolis—Mesdames A. P. Oakes, J. A. Helm, L. G. Simmons, F. M. Jones, L. H. Flanagan, Eugene Lafont, O. P. Treat, E. J. Cowling, George Ruse, Miss Lottie Johnson.

Paducah ladies—Mesdames W. J. Hills, McKee, Coleman, Pinkerton, Chamblin, Whitesides, B. Hills, Fred Acker, Dean, Swanson, Loving, I. O. Walker.

The old Southern Harmony Singing at Beuton drew its usual crowd. There were thousands of people from surrounding districts, and a train load, consisting of seven coaches left, Paducah in the forenoon, and another good crowd in the afternoon. Colonel J. R. Lemon, who for years has been the inspiration of these singings, was on hand as usual as leader, and the affair did not vary from those held for many years past. A basket dinner was served at noon, and enjoyed by several thousand people.

Yesterday was ideal for the several excursions, singings, concerts and other forms of Sunday diversion, the weather being all that could have been desired, except that it was a little warm. Many strangers were in the city, crowds coming from several surrounding cities. The Dick Fowler left at 9 o'clock in the morning for Cairo with a small crowd, less than 100 going from here. The total taken to Cairo was about 110 people. The concert of Prof. Deal's band at La Belle park yesterday afternoon was attended by a large crowd, indicating that these concerts will become very popular before the summer arrives in full force. In addition to the regular concerts every Sunday there are concerts every afternoon at 4 o'clock, which will be found very pleasant for those who desire to escape the heat of the city and enjoy good music.

An excursion was run into this city yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock from St. Louis by the Sportsman League and was well patronized. The passengers were all tired out and a majority went to Wallace park to spend the day. The train was taken away at 6 last night, giving the visitors twelve hours in Paducah. This is the first white excursion run into this city this summer.

Yesterday there was a big Primitive Baptist foot washing on the Mayfield road near Mt. Pleasant church and fully 1500 were in attendance. About 200 had their feet washed and the service was one of the biggest ever held in this section.

The Woodmen of the World held memorial services at Oak Grove yesterday afternoon and the attendance was large. The regular lodge band was taken out and speeches were made by Attorneys Jesse Gilchrist and Wheeler Campbell.

The annual foot washing of the Primitive Baptists was held at Harmony church, at Farmington, Graves county, yesterday and there was as usual a large crowd out. Most of the people were from Marshall and Graves county.

TIMBER SALE

PADUCAH FIRM BUYS A LARGE TRACT.

Among the recent sales of timber in Dyer county, Tennessee, are a lot of 1,000 acres of timber only to Ferguson & Palmer of Paducah, Ky., for $25,000 cash, and a sale to the same firm for $9,000, says an exchange. These timbers are east of Dyersburg, and in the Forked Deer river bottom. A tramroad will be built to enable timber cutters to haul the timber to Dyersburg, from which point it will be shipped to Paducah.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., May 26—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent May 24 to 28, warm wave 23 to 27, cool wave 26 to 30.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about May 28, cross west of Rockies by close of 29, great central valleys 30 to June 1, Eastern states June 2.

Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about May 28, great central valleys 30, Eastern states June 1. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about May 31, great central valleys June 2, Eastern states 4.

This disturbance will belong to a high temperature period; it will be followed by a ten days' low temperature period, will bring general but not heavy showers, and altogether will be favorable to growing crops.

About date of this bulletin we will be in a long decline of temperature that will reach its low point on meridian 90 not far from 23 and by that time general showers will have fallen.

Temperature of the week ending June 1 will average below, rainfall about normal; too cool for corn, but more favorable corn weather will follow.

HISTORIC ELM, PLANTED BY LINCOLN, DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING.

Springfield, Ill., May 26—During a heavy thunderstorm that frightened the people of this city lightning struck and practically destroyed the historic elm tree which Abraham Lincoln planted with his own hands in front of his home on South Eighth street in this city. One monster branch of this tree shaded the house, drooping down over the roof. The lightning tore this heavy branch off and sent it crashing down upon the roof. Some little damage was done to the home.

This was the only tree left about the place that was planted by Lincoln himself, and planted while the family of the martyred president resided at the Springfield Lincoln home. The tree has been pointed out to visitors for years. As soon as it was known that the tree had fallen Mrs. S. A. Edwards, wife of the custodian, notified Secretary of State Rose.

Nerves

As Steady as Clock Work.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Made Them So

After Years of Heart and Nerve Trouble.

Weak and hungry spells indicate a nervous affection of the heart. The nerves are not getting the nourishment they need, and unless treatment is speedily begun, disastrous results are sure to follow. When strengthened, invigorated and restored to their normal state the nervous system abounds in energy, vitality and nerve force, and successfully resists the attack of disease and decay. Dr. Miles' Nervine is the true nerve tonic, furnishing, as it does, the exact element of nourishment and strength which the shattered nervous system requires, and that good results, noticeably pronounced, follow the giving of the first few doses. It is a wonderful nerve specific.

"For many years I was a sufferer from heart and nervous troubles. I would have spells when I would be uncommonly hungry even after eating; headache, sour stomach, griping pains, weak, trembling spells, me sometimes quite severe. The doctor gave only temporary relief from pain and I decided to try Dr. Miles' Nervine. I began with one bottle of the Heart Cure and one of the Restorative Nervine, and they helped me so much that I got some more. When I had taken six bottles my nerves were as steady as clock-work. I could eat anything I wanted and as much as I wanted without it hurting me. I thank Dr. Miles for the good it has done me."—JOHN B. ADAMS, Glenn, Ga.

TIMBER SALE

PADUCAH FIRM BUYS A LARGE TRACT.

Among the recent sales of timber in Dyer county, Tennessee, are a lot of 1,000 acres of timber only to Ferguson & Palmer of Paducah, Ky., for $25,000 cash, and a sale to the same firm for $9,000, says an exchange. These timbers are east of Dyersburg, and in the Forked Deer river bottom. A tramroad will be built to enable timber cutters to haul the timber to Dyersburg, from which point it will be shipped to Paducah.

HISTORIC ELM, PLANTED BY LINCOLN, DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING.

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—During a heavy thunderstorm that frightened the people of this city lightning struck and practically destroyed the historic elm tree which Abraham Lincoln planted with his own hands in front of his home on South Eighth street in this city. One monster branch of this tree shaded the house, drooping down over the roof. The lightning tore this heavy branch off and sent it crashing down upon the roof. Some little damage was done to the house.

This was the only tree left about the place that was planted by Lincoln himself, and planted while the family of the martyred president resided at the Springfield Lincoln home. The tree has been pointed out to visitors for years. As soon as it was known that the tree had fallen Mrs. S. A. Edwards, wife of the custodian, notified Secretary of State Rose.

Nerves

As Steady as Clock Work.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Made Them So

After Years of Heart and Nerve Trouble.

Weak and hungry spells indicate a nervous affection of the heart. The nerves are not getting the nourishment they need, and unless treatment is speedily begun, disastrous results are sure to follow. When strengthened, invigorated and restored to their normal state the nervous system abounds in energy, vitality and nerve force, and successfully resists the attack of disease and decay. Dr. Miles' Nervine is the true nervonic, furnishing, as it does, the exact element of nourishment and strength which the shattered nervous system requires, so that good results, noticeably pronounced, follow the giving of the first few doses. It is a wonderful nerve specific.

"For many years I was a sufferer from heart and nervous troubles. I would have spells when I would be uncommonly hungry even after eating; headache, sour stomach, gripping pains, weak, trembling spells, me sometimes quite nerve. The doctor gave only temporary relief from pain and I decided to try Dr. Miles' Remedies. I began with one bottle of the Heart Cure and one of the Restorative Nervine, and they helped me so much that I got some more. When I had taken six bottles my nerves were as steady as clockwork. I could eat anything I wanted and as much as I wanted without it hurting me. I thank Dr. Miles for the good it has done me."—JOHN B. ADAMS, Glenn, Ga.

All druggists will guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

DAILY THOUGHT.

Character building must be done alone, and by yourself. The ground must be cleansed of debris and the structure must be erected stone by stone.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Tuesday.

NEEDED, AN UP-TO-DATE MAN.

The News-Democrat yesterday mentioned a few things that The Sun has been telling the people for several years past. It says:

"The people of Paducah are looking for an administration of the city's affairs that will be commensurate with the remarkable growth and investment of private capital that has been going on here for several years past. Paducah is no longer a mere town, it is a blooming city. But the slowness of the city administration in providing public improvements is becoming a serious menace to its continued growth. The lack of a sufficient sewer system is a scandal and the condition of many streets, gutters and sidewalks an every day reproach. Capital will soon hesitate to invest in a town now so large and yet so indifferent to the essentials of economical administration and a healthy community. Why should Paducah be thus handicapped? Why should steps that would redound many fold to the common welfare be so long delayed? Why will not the present mayor, or some other man experienced in public affairs announce a positive policy of sweeping public improvements, courageously stick to it, win out on it and perpetuate his name in the community as a public benefactor? All the people of Paducah need is a leader in whom they have confidence and they will follow, but no timid, vacillating policy will receive countenance from them. The time is ripe for such a leader. Who will lead?"

We believe any person with the interests of the city at heart, regardless of politics, can cheerfully endorse the above. We do not believe, however, that the Democrats can break their record and have out a man who suits the above description. There is no indication of it yet. There has always been too much of a disposition in Paducah to legislate in a way supposed to be for the good of the masses. In reality, it has not been. They may have been saved a few dollars now and then, but they were permanently deprived of advantages and benefits that they needed a great deal more than money.

The city could by spending a few hundred dollars a year, or by imposing a small special tax, sprinkle the streets that need it most in summer, and contribute to the health and comfort of the people, as well as save the streets the wear and tear that result from a hot, dry, dusty condition. But every time anyone suggests it, the cry of "graft" is raised, and the timorous legislators drop the project as it were charged with electricity.

Regarding the lack of sewerage, Paducah has had a first class sewerage system for five years or more, a system that has proven a success despite the neglect and incompetency with which it has been managed since the Democrats took charge of it. Sewerage is acknowledged by all health authorities to be almost indispensable to a city, and ours is acknowledged to be a good system, yet only about one-fourth of the people in the sewerage district have connected with it. The legislative body has never compelled them to, although in other places within two years after its construction people are usually, if not always, compelled to connect with the sewerage. The first excuse offered for not requiring it in Paducah was that the people had just finished paying for the sewerage itself, and were not able to stand the additional expense of connecting with it. Now, after they have had ample time to recoup, the excuse offered is that the city cannot compel them to patronize a private corporation—the water company—a theory absolutely foolish, because any city, notwithstanding a baneful of laws otherwise prohibitive, can compel anything that is deemed necessary or advisable for the health of the people. In addition, to compel people to connect with the sewerage would not necessarily force them to patronize the water company. It is possible for every person to have his own system of water works for flushing the sewerage pipes, and in cities many have. They put up a tank, fill it by pumping water from a well, and have an independent system. If anyone here preferred that to the payment of water rent, he could do it, and would not be compelled to patronize the water company.

When the question of keeping up cows was agitated, it was claimed that to do as other cities do, and require stock kept up, would impose a hardship on some classes. Yet Paducah has over 20,000 people, embracing five or six thousand families, and the last assessment shows less than 400 cows. In order to benefit these comparatively few cow owners, the whole city must be made a stamping ground for livestock, and a large majority of the people must endure it. This is perhaps a small matter, but it shows the spirit that has been rampant among our lawmakers, and which militates against the progress of Paducah.

Past Democratic administrations have inexcusably neglected many things, and the progressive people are beginning to realize the injury and disadvantages of the inferior sort of public service they have been getting. The time is ripe for a change, and The Sun believes that the people will support the man who boldly comes out for progress and improvement, who is not afraid to say where he stands, and who will make the race on a platform unequivocally favoring public improvements. The Republicans of Paducah will in due time offer such a man.

REBUKING INDIFFERENT OFFICERS.

The people in more than one city are taking into their own hands the work neglected by officials who are devoting more time to politics than to the public good. Following the lead of Louisville women, who had to get out and clean the streets adjacent to their homes, Saturday was designated "cleaning day" in several neglected Chicago wards, and a dispatch says: "Residents made an early appearance in streets, back alleys and vacant lots, ready for their task. Business men who had laid off work during the half holiday were to be seen shoveling piles of dirt into receptacles of various kinds, while housekeepers took their brooms into the streets and made things as clean there as their own pantry floors. Boys and girls collected in throngs and assisted in the work, which is promised to make the Thirtieth and Fourteenth wards models of cleanliness. Chairman Ott of the improvement committee superintended the efforts of an army of boys in converting a lot into a playground by filling in with rubbish and dirt from the surrounding streets. The dirt collected is carried to vacant lots of the district to fill in sunken places, while the rubbish is either burned on the lots or, if not inflammable, buried under the dirt."

Chancellor Andrews of the University of Nebraska has gracefully repudiated his former emphatic views on free silver, and if Mr. Bryan and other staunch advocates of the fallacy would follow his example they would doubtless find it more productive of public confidence than their present course. Chancellor Andrews says in an address on "Ethics in Money": "I confess the error of the opinion I held for a number of years regarding the production of gold. The output of gold has increased enormously since 1890. By 1897 it had completely checked the fall which prices had been undergoing since 1873, and since 1897 has caused a considerable rise in prices. From the advice of the greatest geologists, both in this country and in Europe, and the opinions of the practical miners of Colorado, whom I saw when I visited Colorado in 1893, I believed the greatest outputs of gold were past. I am willing to admit that it was an astounding mistake, and that I was in great and reasonable error. I now believe the present enormous output of gold will continue."

The executive committee of the Democratic party seems to have conclusively shown the revolting element again that it is inviolable. There seems but one of two things to do—grin and bear it or leave the party. Kicking will not avail.

The Somerset Journal says the way to kill a town is: "Oppose improvements; trade somewhere else; ask two prices for your property; don't subscribe for the home paper, but borrow it; criticize everything you are not interested in."

COOPED IN PRISON

City Lockup is Under Quarantine at Present.

Case of Smallpox Results in Prisoners Being Kept Up.

The city prison for the first time in the history of Paducah is under quarantine, and none of the prisoners have been taken from the lockup since the discovery of a case of smallpox there last Friday evening.

The battle has been thoroughly fumigated and the doctors say there is no danger, but to be on the safe side the prisoners who have been in the habit of working on the chain gang are enjoying an indefinite respite and have not been taken out for three days.

Street Inspector Eaker, who has good use for the men on the streets, keenly feels their loss and stated this morning that he understood the chain gang would not be taken out again for nine days, when all danger will have passed. At the city hall it was stated that it had not been decided when the prisoners would again be taken out to work on the streets.

Although the prisoners are not allowed to leave the prison, others are being put in, and there are at present about 24 confined in the negro quarters, where the case of smallpox was found.

BIG FIRES.

OVER A MILLION LOSS IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Fire caused a loss of upwards of $1,000,000 last night in the building of the Front Street Warehousing company. The building was three stories high on Front street and five in the rear, and had two sub cellars. Merchandise of a general character was stored in the place. The third floor was packed solidly with matting and besides this there were in the building among other things 1,500 rolls of carpet, 500 barrels of molasses, light and heavy machinery, a car load of wines and other liquors, and a car load of matches. The building was owned by Jacob Wiseman and was valued at $65,000. Three firemen were injured, two of them sustaining fractured shoulder blades.

San Antonio, Tex., May 25.—A fire was discovered in a block of buildings in Ciudad Porfiria Diaz, Mexico, opposite Eagle Pass, and destroyed property valued at not less than $75,000. Probably the loss will be greater. The buildings destroyed were owned by L. Lleras, and were occupied by the Coahuila bank and Truener Bros., furniture and general merchandise dealers. In the bank building $10,000 in silver and $15,000 in currency had been left outside the vault, and this was destroyed, the silver being melted into bullion and the currency burned. The loss on merchandise and buildings is estimated at not less than $50,000. The condition of the money in the vault is not known at this hour. Amount of insurance not learned.

A MEAN TRICK

YOUNG MAN'S HORSE TAKEN AWAY AND DRIVEN HARD.

Mr. Ed Farley, Jr., had his fine horse taken from in front of Mr. Bella's residence on the Mayfield road last night about 10 o'clock. He at first thought the animal had broken loose, but later circumstances showed that he had been taken and driven hard by some one and subsequently released.

Through the assistance of the telephone and friends, Mr. Farley finally found his horse to the date of Island Creek, and the police are now at work on the case. The animal, George Starr, is a racer of great value.

SELLING CHILDREN

THOUSANDS ARE STARVING IN CHINA.

Washington, May 25.—The state department has received a detailed report of the famine conditions in Kwangsi, China, from United States Consul Wada at Canton. Mr. Wada produces a mass of information which he declares to be reliable, from American missionary and native sources in Kwangsi, Wuchow and other places, showing the destitution and of the consequent suffering, which the consul-general says is absolutely appalling. He says that the heads of the families in their desperation are selling their children for from $2 to $5 each, yet so many are the offerings and few the purchasers that not all can be sold, even at this price.

DIED OF DELIRIUM

AGED MAN EXPIRES AT THE CITY HOSPITAL.

John Cofferty, age 54, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock at the city hospital where he had been taken from the Klondike saloon suffering from delirium tremens. He died a horrible death and little could be learned relative to his history. It is known that he had been in Paducah several years and worked about saloons a great deal. He will probably be buried by the county unless relatives are found and desire his remains shipped away.

It is understood that the deceased has wealthy relations, among them being Mrs. Anna Reely, of Bellevue, a suburb of Scranton, Pa., who was today telegraphed. The remains will be embalmed.

ARTIFICIAL RUBIES NOW MADE.

Process Turns Out Stones as Beautiful as the Real Ones.

The manufacture of artificial rubies, which in appearance are as good as the natural stones, is now an accomplished fact. A demonstration of this achievement was given to the members of the academy of sciences yesterday afternoon.

Some years ago artificial rubies were placed on the market, but a microscopic examination revealed the fact that the crystals were imperfect. The rubies manufactured by M. Verneuil, however, are of a superb red color, and of a purity and sparkle equal to the genuine article. The cost of producing them is not a heavy one, so that there is every reason to anticipate that the new discovery will lead to a sensible diminution in the price of the formerly precious stones.

The rubies are obtained by a new process, in which the blow-pipe plays an important part, and the stones are both beautiful and of a goodly size. The specimen shown at the meeting of the academy was much admired by the savants.—London Leader.

MEAL TIME CONSCIENCE.

WHAT DO THE CHILDREN DRINK?

There are times when mother or father feeds the youngsters something that they know children should not have. Perhaps it is some rich desert but more often it is tea or coffee.

Some compromise by putting in so much hot water that there is not much tea or coffee left but even that little is pretty certain to do harm. It leads to bigger doses. Then come the coffee fits.

It is better to have some delicious hot, good drink that you can take yourself and feed to your children conscious that it will help and strengthen and never hurt them. A lady of Oneida, N. Y., says: "I used coffee

many years in spite of the conviction that it injured my nervous system and produced my nervous headaches. While visiting a friend I was served with Postum but it was not well made, still I determined to get a package and try it myself and after following directions carefully the result was all that could be desired; a delicious, finely flavored, richly colored beverage.

Since I quit coffee Postum has worked wonders for me.

"My husband who has always suffered from kidney trouble when drinking coffee quit the coffee and took up

Postum with me and since drinking

Postum he has felt stronger and better with no indication of kidney trouble.

"You may be sure I find it a great comfort to have a warm drink at meals that I can give my children with a clear conscience that it will help them and not hurt them as coffee of tea would." Name furnished by

Postum Co., 1100 Oak Creek, Minn.

A TRIO OF MISHAPS

Former Paducahan, Now of St.
Louis, Has Arm Broken.

Little Girl Run Down By Unknown
Women

Mrs. Bartlett Schmidt broke her arm yesterday morning while coming here from St. Louis on the excursion train from St. Louis, her home. When the train was being taken off the barge at the incline she attempted to go from one car to another when a brake lever struck her right arm and fractured it above the elbow. She was placed in a cab and taken to Dr. Al E. Young's residence where Dr. Brooks dressed the injury. She lived here until about one year ago when she moved to St. Louis with her husband who is in the printing business there. Her many friends will regret to learn of the accident. Mr. Schmidt is a well known machine operator and formerly was employed on local papers. Mrs. Schmidt is a daughter of the late officer Cal Smith.

A serious accident was narrowly averted at Thirteenth and Clay streets yesterday afternoon while Mr. Will Crow and wife were driving and Mr. James Weilla and Willie Minnich were riding in an automobile.

Mr. Weilla saw Mr. Crow coming and noticing that his horse seemed wild shut off the machine and stopped. The horse became balky and as Mrs. Crow was preparing to jump out of the vehicle Mr. Minnich jumped from the automobile and caught her as she jumped preventing probable injuries. The horse was finally gotten under control and without damage except that one wheel of the buggy was broken.

Little Miss Mildred Orme, the 10 year old daughter of Mr. Linneans G. Orme, of South Fifth street, was knocked off her wheel by reckless driving, supposedly, last night about 7 o'clock at Seventh and Court streets, and painfully injured.

The little girl was riding her wheel when two women drove by her in a buggy and struck the wheel. She was knocked off and run over by the vehicle, but the driver didn't stop. She telephoned later and expressed regret at having run over the child but did not disclose their identity. Dr. Brooks was called and found that the child's head was bruised, her face skinned and a gash inflicted above the eye. She is fortunately not seriously hurt, and is better today.

CARS DERAILED

Freight Wreck at Dawson Yesterday Morning.

Seven Cars Derailed—Dining Service Taken Off Louisville District.

There was a freight wreck at Dawson yesterday morning about 11 o'clock which delayed all passenger trains except No. 122, the Fulton and Louisville passenger train.

The freight train wrecked was No. 152, east bound, in charge of Engineer Frisz, Fireman Rafferty and Conductor Rain. A defective rail caused seven cars to be turned over but fortunately no one was injured in the accident. The wrecker was sent out to pick up the cars but No. 102, which passed here at noon, was delayed at Dawson over two hours while No. 101 was delayed one hour and twenty minutes. No. 121, the Louisville and Fulton accommodation train, was delayed four hours.

The diners have been taken off all trains running through Paducah and hereafter no dining service will be had on the I. C. out of this city. With the change of the schedule of No. 101 last night the dining service was also discontinued with exception between Leitchfield and Louisville, Fulton and Newbern. The No. 101 takes on a diner at Fulton and drops it at Newbern and the No. 102 takes one on at Leitchfield and drops it at Louisville. This will be bad news to many Paducahans who generally dine on the train when going east and will also interfere with many passengers at night.

PALE ALE AND KY-L9

AGAIN DECLARED NON-INTOXICATING BY THE COURT.

A case of much interest was tried before Circuit Judge R. E. Madden of Dresden, Tenn., in which W. D. Frazier of Martin, Tenn., was charged with selling Laevison's Kyo and Pale Ale, which were claimed to be intoxicating; but after testing these drinks and hearing the evidence of a number of witnesses, and the proof showing them to be non-intoxicating, the jury dismissed the case, deciding that it was not a violation of the local option law to sell these beverages.

The decision is of much importance to A. M. Laevison & Co. of this city and their many customers in this state and Tennessee.

I used a sample bottle of Herbine, found it helped me. Then bought two bottles, which completely cured me. I feel grateful to you for furnishing such a splendid medicine, and can heartily recommend it to those suffering from malaria, as it will surely cure them." CHAPTER I.

MR. GRENFALL LORRY SEEKS ADVENTURE.

MR. GRENFALL LORRY boarded the eastbound express at Denver with all the air of a martyr. He had traveled pretty much all over the world, and he was not without resources, but the prospect of a 2,500 mile journey alone filled him with dismay. The country he knew; the scenery had long since lost its attractions for him. And so it was that he gloomily motioned the porter to his boxes and mounted the steps with weariness.

As it happened, Mr. Grenfall Lorry did not have a dull moment after the train started. He stumbled on a figure that leaned toward the window in the dark passageway. With reluctant civility he apologized. A lady stood up to let him pass, and for an instant in the half light their eyes met, and that is why the miles rushed by with incredible speed.

Mr. Lorry had been dawdling away the months in Mexico and California. For years he had felt, together with many other people, that a sea voyage was the essential beginning of every journey. He had started round the world soon after leaving Cambridge; he had fished through Norway and hunted in India, and shot everything from grouse on the Scottish moors to the rapids above Assouan. He had run in and out of countless towns and countries on the coast of South America. He had done Russia and the Rhone valley and Brittany and Damascus. He had seen them all, but not until then did it occur to him that there might be something of interest nearer home. True, he had thought of joining some Englishmen on a hunting tour in the Rockies, but that had fallen through. When the idea of Mexico did occur to him, he gave orders to pack his things, purchased lumberable green tickets, dined unusually well at his club and was off in no time to the unknown west.

There was a theory in his family that it would have been a decent thing for him to stop running about and settle down to work. But his thoughtful father had given him a wealthy mother, and as earning a living was not a necessity he failed to see why it was a duty. "Work is becoming to some men," he once declared, "like whiskers or red ties, but it does not follow that all men can stand it." After that the family found him "hopeless," and the argument dropped.

He was just under thirty years, a good looking as most men, with no one dependent upon him and an income that had withstood both the Mexican Dime and a dabnabab on the Nile. He never tired of seeing things and peoples and places. "There's game to be found anywhere," he said, "only it's sometimes out of season. If I had my way—and millions—I should run a newspaper. Then all the excitements would come to me. As it is, I'm poor, and so I have to go all over the world after them."

This agreeable theory of life had worked well. He was a little bored at times, not because he had seen too much, but because there were not more things left to see. He had managed somehow to keep his enthusiasms through everything, and they made life worth living. He felt, too, a certain elation, like a spirited horse, at turning toward home, but Washington had not much to offer him, and the thrill did not last. His big bug and his hatbox, pasted over with foolish labels from continental hotels, were piled in the corner of his compartment, and he settled back in his seat with a pleasurable sense of expectancy. The presence in the next room of a very smart appearing young woman was prominent in his consciousness. It gave him an uneasiness which was the beginning of delight. He had seen her for only a second in the passageway, but that second had made him hold himself a little straighter. "Why in life," he wondered, "that some girl make you stand like a footman the moment you see them?" Grenfall had been in love too many times to think of marriage. His habit of mind was still general, and he classified women broadly. At the same time he had a feeling that in this case generalities did not apply well. There was something about the girl that made him hesitate at labeling her "Class A or B or Z." What it was he did not know, but unaccountably she filled him with an affected formality. He felt like bowing to her with a grand air and much dignity. And yet he realized that his successes had come from confidence.

At luncheon he saw her in the dining car. Her companions were elderly persons, presumably her parents. They talked mostly in French, occasionally using a German word or phrase. The old gentleman was stately and austere, with an air of deference to the young woman which Grenfall did not understand. His appearance was very striking, his face pale and heavily lined, mustache and imperial gray, the eyebrows large and bushy and the jaw and chin square and firm. The white haired lady carried her head high with unmistakable gentility. They were all dressed in traveling suits which suggested something foreign, but not Ven-na nor Paris; smart, but far from American tastes.

Lorry watched the trio with great interest. Twice during luncheon the young woman glanced toward him carelessly and left an annoying impression that she had not seen him. As they left the table and passed into the observation car he stared at her with some defiance. But she was smiling, and her dimples showed, and Grenfall was ashamed. For some moments he sat gazing from the car window, forgetting his luncheon, dreaming.

When he got back to his compartment, he rang vigorously for the porter. A coin was carelessly displayed in his fingers. "Do you suppose you could find out who has the next compartment, porter?"

"I don't know their name, sub, but they're going to New York via us far as they can get that. I ain't ax um no questions, 'cause that's something 'bout um makes me feel 'a if I ain't got no right to look at um even."

The porter thought a moment.

"I don't believe it 'll do yuh any good, sub, to try to shine up to tha' young lady. She ain't the sawt, I can tell yuh that. I done see too many gubins in ma time."

"What are you talking about? I'm not trying to shine up to her. I only want to know who she is—just out of curiosity." Grenfall's face was a trifle red.

"Beg pardon, sub; but I kind o' thought you was like n'th' gent'men when they see a ban' some woman; allus wants to fin' out something 'bout hah, sub, yuh know. 'Scuse me foh misjudgin' yuh, sub. Th' lady in question is a foh'ner—she lives across th' ocean, 'a fuh as I can fin' out. They're in a hurry to git home foh some reason, 'cause they ain't goin' to stop this side o' New York 'cept to change cars."

"Where do they change cars?"

"St. Louis—goin' by way of Cincinnati an' Washington."

Grenfall's ticket carried him by way of Chicago. He caught himself wondering if he could exchange his ticket in St. Louis.

"Traveling with her father and mother, I suppose."

"No, sub; they's hah uncle an' aunt. I heah hah cull 'em uncle an' aunt. Th' ole gent'man is Uncle Caspar. I don't know what they talk 'bout. It's mostly some foh'ner language. Th' young lady allus speaks Amehican to me, but th' ole folks can't talk it ver well. They'll been to Frisco, an' the hired help they's got with 'em say they been to Mexico too. Th' young lady's got good Amehican dollars, dou' care wha' she's been. She allus smiles when she ask me to do anything, an' I wouldn't care if she nevah tipped me, 'a long as she smiles thataway."

"Servants with them, you say?"

"Yas, sub; man an' woman, nex' section fether side th' ole folks. Cain't say mo' a fifteen words in Amehican."

There was a pretty look of fear in her eyes.

Th' woman is hah maid an' th' man he's th' gent'l hustler for th' hull party."

"And you don't know her name?"

"No, sub, an' I can't ver well fin' out."

"In what part of Europe does she live?"

"Australia, I think, sub."

"You mean Austria."

"Do I? 'Scuse ma ignorance. I was jst' guessin' at it anyhow; one place's as good as 'nother ovah thuh, I reckon."

"Have you one of those dollars she gave you?"

"Yas, sub. Heh's a coin that ain't Amehican, but she says it's with 70 cents in our money. It's a foh'ner piece. She tell me to keep it till I went ovah to hah country; then I could have a high time with it—thuh's whut she says, 'a high time'—an' smiled kind o' knowin' like."

"Let me see that coin," said Lorry, eagerly taking the silver piece from the porter's hand. "I never saw one like it before. Greek, it looks to me, but I can't make a thing out of these letters. She gave it to you?"

"Yas, sub, las' evenin'." A high time on 70 cents! That's reedleous, ain't it?" demanded the porter scornfully.

"I'll give you a dollar for it. You can have a higher time on that."

The old little coin changed owners immediately, and the new possessor dropped it into his pocket with the inward conviction that he was the silliest fool in existence. After the porter's departure he took the coin from his pocket, and, with his back to the door, his face to the window, studied its lettering.

At one little station a group of Indian hunters created considerable interest among the passengers. Grenfall was down at the station platform at once, looking over a great stack of game. As he left the car he met Uncle Caspar, who was hurrying toward his niece's section. A few moments later she came down the steps, followed by the dignified old gentleman. Grenfall tingled with a strange delight as she moved quite close to his side in her desire to see. Once he glanced at her face. There was a pretty look of fear in her eyes as she surveyed the massive bears and the stark, stiff antelopes. But she laughed as she turned away with her uncle.

Grenfall was smoking his cigarette and vigorously jingling the coins in his pocket when the train pulled out. Then he swung on the car steps and found himself at her feet. She was standing at the top, where she had lingered a moment. There was an expression of anxiety in her eyes as he looked up into them, followed instantly by one of relief. Then she passed into the car. Doubtless she would have been as solicitous had he been the porter or the brakeman, he reasoned, but that she had noticed him at all pleased him.

At Abilene he bought the Kansas City newspapers. After breakfast he found a seat in the observation car and settled himself to read. Presently some one took a seat behind him. He did not look back, but unconcernedly cast his eyes upon the broad mirror in the opposite car wall. Instantly he forgot his paper. She was sitting within five feet of him, a book in her lap, her gaze bent briefly on the flitting buildings outside. He studied the reflection furtively until she took up the book and began to read.

The first page of his paper was fairly alive with fresh and important dispatches, chiefly foreign. At length, after allowing himself to become really interested in a Paris dispatch of some international consequence, he turned his eyes again to the mirror. She was leaning slightly forward, holding the open book in her lap, but reading, with straining eyes, an article in the paper he held.

He calmly turned to the next page and looked leisurely over it. Another glance, quickly taken, showed to him a disappointed frown on the pretty face and a reluctant resumption of novel reading. A few moments later he turned back to the first page, holding the paper in such a position that she could not see and, full of curiosity, read every line of the foreign news, wondering what had interested her.

Under ordinary circumstances Lorry would have offered her the paper and thought nothing more of it. With her, however, there was an air that made him hesitate. He felt strangely awkward and inexperienced beside her. Precedents did not seem to count. He arose, tossed the paper over the back of the chair, as if casting it aside forever, and strolled to the opposite window and looked out for a few moments, jingling his coins carelessly. The jingle of the pieces suggested something else to him. His paper still hung invitingly upside down, as he had left it, on the chair, and the lady was poring over her novel. As he passed her he drew his right hand from his pocket, and a piece of money dropped to the floor at her feet. Then began an embarrassed search for the coin—in the wrong direction, of course. He knew precisely where it had rolled, but purposely looked under the seats on the other side of the car. She drew her skirts aside and assisted in the search. Four different times he saw the little piece of money, but did not pick it up. Finally, laughing awkwardly, he began to search on her side of the car, whereupon she rose and gave him more room. She became interested in the search and bent over to scan the dark corners with eager eyes. Their heads were very close together more than once. At last she uttered an exclamation, and her hand went to the floor in triumph. They arose together, flushed and smiling. She had the coin in her hand.

"I have it!" she said gayly, a delicious foreign tinge to the words.

"I thank you"—he began, holding out his hand as if in a dream of ecstasy, but her eyes had fallen momentarily on the object of their search.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, the prettiest surprise in the world coming into her face. It was a coin from her faraway homeland, and she was betrayed into the involuntary exclamation. Instantly, however, she regained her composure and dropped the piece into his outstretched hand, a proud flush mounting to her cheek, a look of cold reserve to her eyes. He had hoped she would offer some comment on what she must have considered a strange coincidence, but he was disappointed. He wondered if she even heard him say:

"I am sorry to have troubled you."

She had resumed her seat, and in him there seemed a thousand miles between them. Feeling decidedly uncomfortable and not a little abashed, he left her and strode to the door. Again a mirror gave him a thrill. This time it was the glass in the car's end. He had taken but a half dozen steps when the brown head was turned slyly and a pair of interested eyes looked after him. She did not know that he could see her, so he had the satisfaction of observing that pretty, puzzled face plainly until he passed through the door.

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Let us assume that your shoes fit you. Now what next? What is most important? Unquestionably "Style!" Demand that a shoe shall possess "Style!" If it has style and little else you want it; if it has no style but everything else, you don't want it!

The "Style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'" is unique.

It cannot be duplicated by any other maker, because the "Dorothy Dodd" is a totally different construction from any other ladies' shoe made. It holds the foot firmly at the waist (that's the instep), prevents the toes from slipping forward, and thus gives a correct poise in walking. Yet it makes the foot look nearly a whole size smaller. That's curious, and you won't believe it till you see it.

Vincennes, May 25—Vincennes lost yesterday through poor playing. Morris of Hopkinsville, was knocked out of the box in the seventh. Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Vincennes	1	1	3	0	0	4	0	0	—9

Owensboro	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	—2

Batteries: Henderson, Bolin and Warner; Owensboro, Beacher and Rutledge.

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

The Clarksville team forfeited the game to Paducah Saturday in the last half of the seventh inning, when the score was 8 to 7 in favor of Clarksville, on a decision of Umpire Winfrey, who called Masseran safe at third base when Catcher Holmes tried to throw him out. Masseran was playing off the base and the majority of the spectators seemed to think he was out. By this action on the part of Clarksville they forfeited the game by a score of 9 to 0. It will probably go before President Thompson in a contest.

The feature work for Paducah was done by Willie LeCompte at short and by Coppock in the field. The two did excellent work, LeCompte making one error in trying to take a pop-up which got between his eyes and the sun. The second error was on a wild throw. Coppock played an errorless game, catching four men out in center field and making one hit. All the Paducah boys played well, especially Tom Clifford behind the bat. His headwork in this position is doing much for Paducah. The Clarksville boys had few sensational plays, the only one of especial mention being Atkinson's one-hand stop of Sweeney's hot grounder to short.

A summary of the game is:

Earned runs—Paducah 2, Clarksville 6. Bases on balls—Morgan 2, H. Holmes 5. Left on bases—Paducah 8, Clarksville 4. Bases stolen—Paducah 1, Clarksville 7. Struck out—By Morgan 2, by Holmes 4. Two base hits—Masseran and Simcox for Paducah and Engle for Clarksville. Passed balls—Clifford 1, Holmes 1. Wild pitches—Morgan 1.

OTHER K. I. T.

RESULTS SATURDAY.

At Vincennes, Ind.—Owensboro 25, Vincennes 8. Amos Rusio played right field for Vincennes and was a heavy batter, bringing in three runs.

At Henderson, Ky.—Henderson 8, Hopkinsville 1.

At Cairo, Ill.—Jackson 9, Cairo 8.

The Centrals defeated the Left-Handed boys yesterday morning at the railroad grounds by a score of 19 to 4. The batteries were Akers and Sutherland for Centrals and Brashie and Hays for the Left-Handed boys.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Today Lloyd will pitch for Paducah on trial, and Clifford will catch. Long is will pitch for Jackson and Pettit will catch. Lloyd was signed as a pitcher here at the first of the season but on account of his bad fielding was "let out." He has asked for a trial as a pitcher and it will be given him. At Henderson he pitched a winning game.

Gaston, the star fielder and pitcher for Jackson, is lame today, the result of a run to first base yesterday. He beat a slow infield hit, and in running over the base caught a plate in the leg and turned his right ankle. The ankle is swollen and sore today, but he says he can "hop, step and so get 'em."

President Ben Weille and Manager Friedlon, the latter of the Jackson baseball team, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Patton and this morning fined in Justice Burnett's court for Sunday baseball playing.

Hedges did little base throwing and pitched an excellent game. Jackson was sorely disappointed and several rows resulted from the game, one man accusing a baseman of throwing the game.

Yesterday's crowd shows how well people take to baseball in Paducah. All they want is a good, fast cinch to make a game interesting and they'll turn out and root until dark any day.

Mrs. Tom Clifford, wife of the well known Paducah ball player, and children were in the city yesterday, having come over from St. Louis on the excursion. They returned last night.

Gaston, pitcher and left fielder for the Jackson team, is a favorite with everybody. He made a superb running catch yesterday which is by far the star play of the season.

The association should pay more attention to its grounds. The foul lines have been marked off but once since the park opened and are now entirely obliterated.

Sexton this morning was much better and can walk alright on the leg injured yesterday. He will be in the game again tomorrow.

The local association announces that hereafter all games will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock on week days and 3 o'clock on Sunday.

The score board has been up for several days and will probably be painted some time before the season is over.

The greatest fault with the home boys is that they get "rattled."

The agile Clarksville lads are certainly base-stealers.

Coppock will be retained in center.

GAVE THE MANDAMUS

Attorney John G. Lovett Gets His Certificate.

Judge Husbands Decides the Case As Intimated Saturday He Would.

Circuit Judge L. D. Husbands this morning in circuit court issued a mandamus requiring Mr. C. W. Morrison to sign as chairman of the Democratic judicial committee of the Second district, the certificate of nomination of Attorney John G. Lovett, of Benton, for commonwealth's attorney. This action was anticipated from the comments Judge Husbands made Saturday in the case, but by agreement it was decided to leave the case open until this morning.

The court overruled the motion to allow Attorney Taylor to be made a party to the action, and this afternoon the certificate of nomination as commonwealth's attorney was made out and turned over to Attorney Lovett. The decision of Judge Husbands probably ends the case, as the suit filed by Attorney Taylor Saturday seeking to enjoin Chairman Morrison and others from issuing the certificate is virtually, in the opinion of several disinterested lawyers, decided by the case settled today.

MINISTERS MEETING

NO DEFINITE ACTION TAKEN RELATIVE TO BASEBALL

The Ministerial association met this morning and discussed Sunday baseball but did not come to any definite decision on what action will be taken.

A well known minister and member of the association stated this morning that he felt positive that no committee was appointed to look into the matter and get up evidence against the ball promoters. The committee, it is said, was selected when a quorum was not present.
